

Rachel Walla, CSP, CIH

Bio

Rachel Walla-Housman, CSP, CIH is a Certified Safety Professional and Certified Industrial Hygienist with 11 years of experience who has unexpectedly found herself as the head (and face) of Ally Safety which creates entertaining safety training videos. Rachel's goal is to test the limits of conventional safety by creating content that resonates with employees, demonstrates rather than tells, explores rather than explains, and replaces zoning out for tuning in!

Credentials

- Bachelor of Science in Occupational Safety and Health from Montana Tech (U of M)
- Certified Safety Professional by the Board of Certified Safety Professionals (#CSP-29945)
- Certified Industrial Hygienist by The Board for EHS Credentialing (#12190 CP)

Previous Press

- Forbes: Expert Advice About Which Mask to Wear When Traveling
- EHS Daily Advisor: The State of Workplace Safety with Ally Safety
- Xena Workwear: Safety Reimagined
- Safety Stage: The 9 Most Interesting Workplace Safety Video Channels
- Builder: Employee Safety in Model Homes Doesn't Have to Compromise Sales
- Training Industry: Using Coaching and Mentoring to Develop New Safety Leaders
- Podcasts: Safety Justice League, Safety FM, Prevennovate Podcast, MarketScale, Safety: the Future is Female Podcast, EHS on Tap, The True Safety Podcast

Contact

 www.allysafety.com

 Rachel.walla@allysafety.com

 720 SE 160th AVE, STE 103 #134
Vancouver, WA 98683